Parents,

You may have noticed that the camera system wasn't working 100% last week. We had the modem replaced last week as well as the website host company trying to get things back on track. However, we are still having some problems and are now trying to upgrade the router to a much better system. Unfortunately, we are having problems getting that system installed but are working as quickly as possible to get it resolved. With that being said, the cameras may be down for a little bit but we will get them back up and running, better than ever, soon- we hope! Thanks for being understanding! ~Mrs. Christina
